

Hello families, I'm Bethany! Since most of this website is dedicated to explaining my professional nanny self to you, I'd like to use this opportunity to let you get to know me when I'm not wearing the nanny hat.

I enjoy keeping myself busy and active. I spend my weekends hiking, rock climbing, paragliding, and playing music. I am a member of the Peninsula Symphonic Band, and occasionally am able to join Awesome Orchestra at pop-up open rehearsals. I enjoy finding new places to explore, and spend vacation time heading to new national parks and generally treating life as an adventure in and of itself! For more relaxing activities, I read and listen to audiobooks at a pretty quick pace (It's looking like I'm on track to top 100 books this year!) I enjoy writing in my journal, and it's fun to occasionally read old ones to take a trip down memory lane. I keep an assortment of craft supplies on hand for making cards or adding an extra splash of color to my journals, and enjoy keeping in touch with a few close friend pen-pal style. I am trying to improve my drawing skills, but so far can only copy coloring book-style outlines, and am recently motivated to expand my knitting skills to more than just simple scarves. Though they live in Ohio, I am close with my family; we video call often to keep in touch. I listen to all sorts of music, from classical/instrumental to 60's and 70's rock to country to showtunes. I love Halloween, and will usually start at the end of summer scouring thrift shops to piece together a costume - this year, I'm planning on dressing as Luisa Madrigal!
